A subscriber to a channel on the video-sharing YouTube is a user who has chosen to receive the channel's content by clicking on that channel's "Subscribe" button, and each user's subscription feed consists of videos published by channels to which the user is subscribed.

The channels are ordered by number of subscribers; those whose displayed subscriber counts are identical are listed so that the channel whose current growth rate indicates that its displayed subscriber count will exceed that of the other channel is listed first.

YouTube began publishing a list of its most- subscribed channels in April 2006. An early archive of the list dates to May 2006.

The most-subscribed channel is the Indian record label T-Series, which hosts its music videos on its channel. With over 248 million subscribers as of August 2023, the channel has held the top position since April 14, 2019.[5][6]

The most-subscribed channel which is not 'branded' (i.e., does not belong to an organization or company) is that of American YouTuber MrBeast, who is the second most-subscribed channel overall, with over 179 million subscribers as of August 2023.[6]
